The Perfect Patient Experience: Personalized Prevention, Wellbeing, and Longevity

Dirk-Rolf Gieselmann, Senator Oral Health Foundation

Creating a personalized prevention experience for your patients is the key to state-of-the-art patient-centric communication.

Today's new generation of health-conscious, internet-savvy patients expect much more from their dentist and dental team than in the past. Maintaining their own health is a top priority, and personalized prevention, longevity, and wellness are key factors in this.

This presents a real opportunity for practice teams, as this innovative type of diagnostic approach enables completely new, individualized therapy concepts in the field of preventive medicine.

Here, prevention becomes a tangible experience. Patients appreciate this; it is important to them to be seen and treated as human beings. Prevention, longevity, and wellness begin in the mouth and have an impact on the entire body. This presentation will reveal new horizons and perspectives for every practice.

The Longevity Blueprint – Building Long- Lasting Health through the Four Pillars: Nutrition, Sleep, Movement, & Mindset

Prof. Dr. Dr. Eik Schiegnitz, M.Sc., University Mainz

Longevity isn't just about adding years to your life—it's about adding life to your years. The Longevity Blueprint explores how four fundamental pillars—nutrition, sleep, movement, and mindset—form the foundation of lasting health and vitality. Grounded in science yet accessible in practice, this talk reveals how small, consistent choices in these areas can profoundly impact resilience, energy, and well-being. By aligning body and mind through these interconnected pillars, we can design a blueprint for not only living longer, but thriving along the way.
